

The WINDOW WIZARD window cleaning instructions

What is the easiest way to clean your painted windows, after the holidays?

Here it is...the SUPER EASY CLEANING METHOD for painted windows.

"You get someone else to do it!!!"

That's my favorite method, but,... okay, so we know that's not always going to happen (it's always worth a try.)

So here's the SECOND BEST way to clean painted windows. Take it from someone who has had to clean a LOT of paint from painted windows, this is a piece of cake...

1. Wet the windows using a spray bottle of window cleaner or straight water, or a little dish detergent and water mixture. The key here is to get the window paint wet enough so the water will soften the paint with out soaking the window and making huge puddles at the bottom. (You may want to place some paper towels at the bottom to catch the drips.)

You do not want this stuff to soak in the window sills and on the concrete. Give the water time to soften the paint, re-spraying as necessary to keep it wet, usually 3-4 minutes.

2. When the paint has softened, use a straight utility blade/ knife scraper or a credit card to scoop the loosened paint off the glass.

Wipe it onto a rag or paper towel, or an empty cardboard box.

When most of it is removed, wash the window again like you would normally do with window cleaner and paper towels. (squeegee if desired)

SEE?!

All done and ready for the next WINDOW WIZARD holiday painting!
